

Teaching Facility Notification

Life In Abundance is a teaching facility. As such, we provide the training necessary to complete a Christian counseling degree or certification through the Life In Abundance School of Counseling (LIASC). LIA desires to equip those who are called into the ministry of counseling by offering Biblically-based training in Theology and Psychology, as well as clinical training and experience. It is our desire to provide clinical experience, within the counseling setting, for our students and interns. Clinical observation and participation in client sessions will be at the agreement and discretion of each counselor, client, and/or the LIASC supervisor. All observation and participation is under the direct supervision of an LIASC supervisor and/or the client's counselor.

By signing below, you agree to allow the LIASC student and/or counseling intern to observe, participate in, or direct your individual counseling session(s). You may refuse to give such consent. You may also withdraw your consent at any time. A withdraw of consent must be submitted, in writing, to the Life In Abundance office.
